Some things to note

- This list has items that often sell for over $50 at resale. These are only some of many brands that sell well. Many brands such as Victoria's Secret or Nike have lots of items that may not sell for as much so they're not listed here, but they may still be profitable depending on how much it costs to acquire them and your selling goals.
- Not every item by each brand listed here will sell well. Look for popular items, signature items, or things the brand is known for (e.g., Veronica Beard blazers).
- Some categories of items generally sell well because of what they are such as swimwear and underwear/lingerie (especially those that specialize in plus-size items).
